Romney Raps Salary Raise In Legislature

LANSING (AP) — Gov. George Romney took a dim view Tuesday of a House move to raise salaries of legislators by $5,000 a year to $17,500, terming it "highly inconsistent."

"Ironically," said the governor, "the highest paid legislature in the country is proposing another salary increase before it has shown by action that it is capable of fiscal responsibility and is prepared to achieve needed tax reform."

"It is further highly inconsistent to speak of salary increases at this time while at the same time opposing economy and efficiency by cutting proposed expenditures in areas that would increase our efficiency and effectiveness," Romney said.

Such an area, the governor said, is his proposal for $100,000 to finance a task force on expenditure management, being ignored by the Democratic-controlled legislature.

The House has passed a proposal to raise the current $10,600 salary by $5,000. This with $2,500 expenses, would make the total legislative pay $17,500. The measure still has to get through the Senate, where some opposition was reported.

"Some governors don't make as much as that," commented Romney, noting that the governor of New Mexico draws $17,000 a year.

Romney said he would veto any bill proposing a pay raise for the governor.

He did not directly comment on the possibility of a veto of the legislative pay raise measure, but said it would be possible although it is attached to an appropriations bill, by vetoing the entire measure.

The governor said there should be a different order of priority in pay raise adjustments for state employees. The most underpaid people in state government, he said, are some in classified positions.

Citing an example, he said the deputy state employment security commissioner makes more than the commissioner.

Sitters Jailed In East Lansing

EAST LANSING (AP) — About 60 chanting youths were loaded on buses and trains to the Ingaham County Jail today after a civil rights demonstration in front of the city hall.

The youths, most of them Michigan State University students, sat in the middle of the street. They were to be arraigned before Municipal Judge William Wise on charges of obstructing traffic, police said.

The sit-down followed a two-hour meeting with Mayor Gordon Thomas in which the students demanded an open occupancy ordinance. Negro students and faculty members at MSU are denied equal housing rights, the demonstrators said.

Thomas said he would rather follow a path of education through a recently established city civil rights commission.

"I think it makes sense to sit at a lunch counter when you will not be served, but not to sit in the street in front of a city hall," Thomas said.

Pickets Parade At Un-American Quiz In Chicago

CHICAGO (AP) — The House Committee on Un-American Activities moves its probe of Communism in Illinois into the second phase today. Police braced again for demonstrations.

The violence broke out when Ronald Woodard, 21, a Negro demonstrator, tried to stage a one-man sit-down.

Police hustled him out and called for a paddy wagon. When the wagon arrived, demonstrators threw themselves behind and in front of its wheels. Others began to chant, "police sit-down."

Police pulled the demonstrators from under the wagon and arrested them.

By late evening the number of pickets dwindled to about 50 and the group quietly disbanded.

Miss Holmes told the committee she spent 5½ years posing as an Illinois party worker. She said the Communist Party was attempting to sabotage the civil rights movement. She said Communists tried to infiltrate many Negro groups.

The two main Communist objectives, she said, were control of the civil rights movement and control of unions.

The party, she said, "does not want to solve the Negro problems." Instead, she added, they want the "depression among Negroes" to continue "so they will have something to work on."

Ban Asked On Roadside Billboards And Junkyards

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson asks Congress today for legislation to beautify our roadsides and to ban billboards from busy highways.

The presidential request — four separate bills — follows by a day the conclusion of a White House conference on natural beauty. Johnson is doing just what the 1,000 conference wanted. But there are signs the billboard bill will stir up controversy in Congress.

Johnson, who called the two-day conference, wound it up with a big reception at the White House and a lengthy speech pronouncing his own dedication to the cause of natural beauty.

Goal For 1970
Two of the President's bills would require the use of $220 million in highway funds for landscaping and beautification, scenic roads and recreation along the nation's road system.

Johnson hopes to eliminate existing billboards by 1970 on the network of 230,000 miles of federal-aid primary roads and the completed 20,000 miles of the planned 41,000-mile interstate superhighways.

Administration sources gave this rundown of the four-bill package Johnson prepared to send along with a special beauty message to Congress.

Right-To-Vote Measure Sure Of OK Today

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate was poised today for passage of a bill to make sure no American is denied his constitutional right to vote.

President Johnson's No. 1 priority measure, the legislation is certain of overwhelming approval. When that approval comes — probably before nightfall — it is expected to be along the lines of the 70-30 vote Tuesday by the Senate to limit further debate.

With a long Memorial Day weekend approaching and Congress eager to get out of town, leaders called the Senate in three hours early today, figuring the headstart would take care of whatever fight and talk Southern opponents may have left.

The cloture vote, three over the required two-thirds, pretty much took the starch out of opponents of the civil rights measure.

Sen. Sam J. Ervin Jr., D-N.C., a former judge who has questioned the legislation's constitutionality and has been trying — and failing — to tack on amendments, told reporters: "The way things are, I don't think I could ever get a denunciation of the Crucifixion in the bill."

The measure is designed primarily to sweep obstacles from the path of Negro voters in the Deep South. Negro leaders, liberal organizations and labor chieftains are united in echoing the administration's call for approval.

Senate passage will send the bill to the House where a similar measure has been approved by the House Judiciary Committee.

Governor Signs Two Laws On Juvenile Drivers

LANSING (AP) — Two bills aimed at bringing juveniles under the point system for driving violations while at the same time leaving them under the jurisdiction of probate court were signed into law Tuesday by Gov. George Romney.

One measure permits assessing of points against the driving records of persons under 17, upon probate court findings.

The other gives the juvenile division of probate court power to handle traffic cases involving juveniles as defendants in the same manner as those involving adults. This bill specifically notes that the probate court retains full power to restrict driving privileges of a juvenile for other cause or as a condition of probation.

Police broke through the bathroom door. The maid, Martha Weber, said Mrs. Warren had appeared disconsolate when she was served breakfast in bed about 9 a.m.

Mrs. Weber said when she returned for her tray about 40 minutes later Mrs. Warren was gone. She said she then found the bathroom door locked and when Mrs. Warren failed to answer her calls she notified authorities.

Mrs. Warren was the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Eugene I. du Pont of the du Pont chemical manufacturing dynasty.

Elderly Widows Shot; Man Flees To Water Tank

SOUTH HAVEN (AP) — Two elderly widows were shot and wounded at their Casco Township home off Hawkhead Road 10 miles northeast of here Tuesday.

State police later arrested their alleged assailant on a water tank where they said he was threatening to drown himself.

Mrs. Emma Sutton, 65, and Mrs. Edith Newton, 73, were the shooting victims. Norman Swinney, 57, farm worker who lives nearby, was held.

Mrs. Sutton was reported in critical condition from shotgun wounds in the head. She was taken to Bronson Hospital at Kalamazoo. Mrs. Newton, wounded in one arm, was taken to Community Hospital here.

Police said Swinney, carrying a 12 gauge shotgun, appeared at the women's home and started an argument. The shootings followed, officers said.

It was understood Johnson decided to recommend the stringent billboard controls because for a patent-medicine ad, he said.

State School Aid Given Increase Of 71 Million

U.S. Troops Leave In Santo Domingo

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP) — The United States today began withdrawing 600 of the 21,000 troops it has stationed in the Dominican Republic. Their place is being filled by Latin-American soldiers arriving for the new peace force of the Organization of American States.

Within a week the Latin Americans in the Inter-American Force will total about 1,700 men. An equal number of Americans are expected to leave the divided country.

Fighting Halted

Fighting in Santo Domingo between troops of the military-civilian junta and rebel forces has come to a halt. But U.S. officials admitted that a political solution was not in sight due to the junta's insistence that the rebels surrender and that it become the country's only government.

McGeorge Bundy, President Johnson's special envoy, was returning to Washington today after 10 days of intensive but futile efforts to bring the rival factions together.

About all the two sides have agreed on is that any new government should be strongly anti-Communist and should not be a right-wing dictatorship.

U.S. officials said OAS Secretary-General Jose A. Mora would now have charge of negotiations. Deputy U.S. Defense Secretary Cyrus Vance, who came here with Bundy, is remaining to help Mora.

Bundy and his team of negotiators have been trying to promote a coalition government headed by Antonio Guzman, agriculture minister in the government of exiled President Juan Bosch. The rebels have welcomed the idea, but the junta has rebuffed it.

The junta president, Gen. Antonio Imbert Barrera, assailed the coalition formula Tuesday as a "frank intervention in the internal affairs" of the Dominican Republic because it originated abroad.

Instead, Imbert proposed creation of a provisional legislative council to serve, apparently in an advisory capacity, under the present junta. The council members would be appointed by professional, industrial, agricultural and labor organizations. The armed forces would publicly pledge allegiance to civil authority.

Imbert made no mention of elections or the proposed life span of the council and the junta.

Big Boost Sets Record; Senate OK Expected

LANSING (AP) — The House of Representatives Tuesday approved a $71 million hike in state school aid — the largest single increase in history.

The $451.82 million bill was passed 105-1 and sent to the Senate where ready acceptance is expected. The amended bill was drafted in compromise sessions between Democratic majorities in both houses.

Rep. Robert Waldron, R-Grosse Pointe, minority leader, cast the lone dissenting vote. He protested that the bill would cost the state a possible $90 million over present expenditures, meaning new taxes or fiscal reform.

"I have no real, sincere indication from you (Speaker Joseph Kowalski, D-Detroit) that we intend to use anything other than the present state surplus to finance the bill," he said.

Burden Shared

Rep. Mrs. Lucille McCollough, chairman of the House Education Committee, sponsored the bill.

She said "the state is now closer to paying its fair share of school costs. We are moving up toward 50 per cent of the cost for the first time in years, taking the burden off the property tax payer."

"The trend in recent years has been toward a 60-40 split between the state and local units," she said.

Rep. David Holmes, D-Detroit, a Negro, tried to amend the bill to conform to federal school aid regulations to withhold aid to districts in which racial or religious discrimination is practiced.

His amendment was withdrawn because he did not "want to jeopardize the bill" in a floor fight. It would have allowed the State Board of Education to withhold aid to any district found in court to be violating state or federal antidiscrimination laws.

Poorer Districts Benefit
Holmes said he will introduce the discrimination ban in a separate bill in the next legislative session.

The aid bill represents a $40 million hike over the recommendation of Gov. George Romney for the coming fiscal year and about $20 million more than the Senate's earlier recommendation.

It also represents a substantial drop from the $112 million increase approved by the House Ways and Means Committee.

The bill, Mrs. McCollough said, would provide aid in four major areas.

It sets state aid per pupil at $253 compared with $236.50 at present, $242 recommended by Romney and $260 recommended by the House committee.

Impoverished districts (those with less than $13,000 in state equalized valuation per pupil) would get enough additional funds to enable them to spend about $380 per pupil providing they are making a "total effort" in taxation to meet the state average of 14.5 mills. This would cost the state $23.25 million next year.

The bill would pay 75 per cent of allowable costs for special education and transportation to encourage local programs to educate exceptional boys and girls." Mrs. McCollough said.

The bill also allocates $4 million in special aid to school districts "educating large numbers of disadvantaged youth."

It also raises the deductible mileage factor from 4.25 mills to 4.6 mills. Deductible mileage is the factor used to spread school aid on a relatively equal basis to both rich and poor districts.

Republicans tried to amend the bill but instead supported it. Rep. Martin Buth, R-Comstock Park, objected when a Democrat moved to shut off debate.

"I don't think a half-hour debate is sufficient on a bill as important as this," he said.

Rep. George Sietsema, R-Grand Rapids, tried unsuccessfully to reduce the deductible mileage factor according to the percentage of nonpublic school students in the district.

Rep. James Farnsworth, R-Otsego, was one of two Reps.

House-Senate Showdown Near On Foreign Aid

WASHINGTON (AP) — House passage of a one-year, $3.37-billion foreign aid authorization bill has set the stage for a showdown with the Senate over the future course of the program.

The differences would have to be ironed out in a Senate-House conference committee.

Fulbright said he still has not decided if he will manage the Senate bill on the floor when it comes up for debate.

Fulbright served notice on the administration last fall he would not steer the measure in the Senate if it submitted an omnibus bill. He lost a motion in his own committee to split military and economic aid into two separate bills.

In the end, however, the committee accepted his recommendation for a two-year authorization, coupled with an amendment by Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., to terminate the whole program in its present form after that.

The House passed its one-year measure — with no provision for termination — by a vote of 249 to 148 Tuesday. It did so after rejecting, 219 to 177, a Republican attempt to cut $131 million from the development loan section.

Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, told newsmen he thinks the Senate will go along with the committee's recommendation for a two-year authorization and a two-year deadline for the administration to come up with a new program.

Sell Gas Plant, Taxpayers Say

At a meeting of the general membership of the Escanaba Area Taxpayers Association Tuesday night, it was almost unanimously voted to favor the sale of the Escanaba Gas distribution system and to vote "Yes" on June 1.

Although 96 per cent of the members present were in favor of selling the system, they unanimously agreed that the Michigan Consolidated Gas Co. should be paying at least 10 per cent more than the $725,000 sale price, also that the people of Escanaba should have the right, by vote, to determine when and for what this million dollars ($725,000 plus reserves) should be spent.

The Association is of the opinion—after thorough study—that the Black & Vietch projection into future potential is very conservative and on this basis, the distribution system is worth more than $725,000.

However, in spite of this stand, they favor sale and a "Yes" vote next Monday, the Association reported.

Kennedys Fly Back Home Today

LONDON (AP)—Mrs. John F. Kennedy and her two children left for home today after a two-week visit to Britain. They came for the dedication of the Runnymede memorial to President Kennedy and stayed on for a holiday in London.

VETO HINTED

LANSING (AP) — Gov. George Romney served notice on the legislature Tuesday that he will oppose any spending that will change the state's fiscal figures from black ink to red.

A hint of a veto was contained in Romney's remarks at a news conference at which he discussed proposed legislative spending.

"To the fullest extent possible, I shall avoid permitting appropriations that will exceed available revenues and surplus in the two years ahead," the governor said.

Asked if this indicated a veto for any spending measures that would top income, Romney avoided a direct answer but repeated firmly:

"To the fullest extent possible..."

Romney noted that legislative actions to date would increase appropriations for 1965-66 by at least $58 million above his total recommended budget of $788 million. The bulk of the increase would come from the House - proposed school aid measure.

Spending Load Spurts

The governor said he was not challenging the desirability of the school aid measure conceived by the House.

"In fact," he said, "I have stated previously that I am not satisfied with my own recommendations in this area that were limited to the surplus and revenue funds available."

The total effect of the school aid proposal, he said, would be to increase proposed expenditures by more than $110-million for a two-year period.

An increase of this magnitude, he said, cannot be absorbed by revenues from existing taxes, including the use of all the expected surplus.

Romney said at this point it is certain the surplus for the current fiscal year will exceed the early estimate of $164 million, probably by 1 or 1.5 per cent.

"But even assuming that our surplus at the end of this year is greater than estimated, and next year's revenue growth is more than twice what we have projected, there is no conceivable way of supporting the increased spending other than debt or deficit," Romney said.

Receipts Show Tourist Boost

Delta County sales tax receipts reached an all time high in August of 1964, Walter G. Lewke, manager of the Escanaba Chamber of Commerce, said today.

"This is concrete evidence that the distribution of 50,000 Escanaba and 50,000 Delta County travel folders at the midwest travel shows, at Michigan State Highway Department information lodges, at Chambers of Commerce and travel bureaus is important to the tourist business economy of the area," he said.

Total sales tax receipts in August, 1964 were $206,786, and tourism sales tax receipts also hit an all time high in August, 1964, amounting to $79,624.

Delta County was second only to Mackinac County, whose sales tax receipts for tourist business in August, 1964, were $94,248, and Delta County was second only to Marquette in gross sales tax for the same month. Marquette's gross sales tax was $261,091.

Tourism sales tax receipts for Delta County for August, 1964 were almost double over previous August figures.

"The tourism promotion of the Escanaba Chamber of Commerce with the cooperation of the Delta County Board of Supervisors is paying dividends.

All facets of business in the Delta County area reap the benefits of expenditures to increase the tourist business of the area," said Lewke.

"The Delta County Board of Supervisors has authorized the expenditure of funds to print 56,000 copies of the Delta County brochure and the Escanaba Chamber of Commerce budgets funds for the Escanaba brochure."

Academic Garb Tradition Old

By Max Riedlsparger

The costumes commonly worn today by members of the academic world on formal academic occasions are vestiges of the Middle Ages when the gown or flowing robe was the accepted mode of dress.

Initially the style of the robe was purely functional with the long flowing sleeves being excellent for the "loaf of bread or the jug of wine." The hood or "chapman" which made its appearance in the 13th Century was a long pointed bag used for carrying books or in the case of law for receiving the fees of grateful clients during the course of the trial. In the ensuing centuries, however, the practical aspects of the garb were forgotten and the cut and design came to signify the profession and academic attainment of the wearer.

The style of the garb evolved differently in each university with each setting its own strict rules regulating the costume. In the United States, however, since our early universities were patterned largely after Oxford University, a generally uniform style and color code based on that of Oxford, has been adopted.

The total effect of the school aid proposal, he said, would be to increase proposed expenditures by more than $110-million for a two-year period.

An increase of this magnitude, he said, cannot be absorbed by revenues from existing taxes, including the use of all the expected surplus.

Dr. Sundelius Joins Faculty At Wittenberg

Dr. Harold W. Sundelius, a staff geologist with the U. S. Geological Survey, and a native of Escanaba, will join the faculty of Wittenberg University's undergraduate college in September, Dean Allan O. Pfleiderer announced Wednesday.

Dr. Sundelius will go to Wittenberg at Springfield, Ohio, as assistant professor of geology. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert A. Sundelius, 1003 Lake Shore Drive, Escanaba.

The new Wittenberg faculty member has been on the staff of the U. S. Geological Survey since 1959. His most recent assignment has involved geological mapping and related investigations in the Piedmont of North Carolina.

Dr. Sundelius is the author of more than 16 published papers on geological subjects.

He is a 1952 graduate of Augsburg College, Rock Island, Ill. He earned his master of science degree in 1957 and the doctor of philosophy degree in 1959 at the University of Wisconsin. He studied at the University of Oslo in Norway in 1952-53.

He holds memberships in the Geological Society of America, Geological Society of Washington, D. C., the Carolina Geological Society, the American Association for the Advancement of Science and the Society of Sigma Xi.

Job Seekers Down In Area

Jim Damitz, manager of the local Michigan Employment Security Office reports that currently there are approximately 550 individuals (428 males-122 females) registered for work in the Delta-Schoolcraft area.

According to Damitz, the current total is 240 less than last month and about 340 less than one year ago.

In addition to the 550 individuals seeking regular full time work there are a large number of high school and college students seeking full or part time working during the summer months. There are considerably more students seeking work this summer than during the past several seasons.

During the month of May a number of individuals have been placed on training programs at Northern Michigan University. Seven males were placed in basic education, machine tool operation and seven females in stenographic training.

At present there are two training programs under consideration. One for a building material estimator and the other for a building construction estimator. These courses would be of 48 weeks duration and would qualify for positions paying from $6,000 to $8,500 per year. Applications are being accepted for this training — applicants must be high school graduate or equivalent and be good in math.

Damitz also said that applications are being processed for individuals who have applied for Job Corps. As it is no longer necessary to write to Washington, D. C., individuals between the ages 16-21 who have not made applications are urged to contact the MESC office in Escanaba.

Mrs. Juhl, 50, Taken By Death

Mrs. LaVerl Juhl, 50, 3101 S. 14th Ave., Escanaba, a well known member of the staff of St. Francis Hospital where she was in Central Supply, died at the hospital today at 3:05 a. m., following a stroke which she suffered three days ago. Her death occurred on her birthday anniversary.

Mrs. Juhl was born May 26, 1915, in Gladstone and was reared there. She had lived in Escanaba 35 years. Her husband, Carl Alvin, died Dec. 18, 1959. She was a member of First United Presbyterian Church.

She is survived by six sons, Carl Jr., of Long Beach, Calif., Harold and Dale of Flint, Davey, Escanaba, and Wayne and Gary, at home; five daughters, Mrs. William (Marcella) Herbst, Milwaukee, Mrs. Lawrence (Darlene) Van Effen, Mrs. Leon (Kathleen) Sovey, and Mrs. James (Janet) Hall, Escanaba, and Mary Juhl, at home; her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Amos Kliendienst, Gladstone; one brother, Kenneth Spalding, Gladstone; 19 grandchildren.

Friends may call at the Allo Funeral Home Thursday from 3 to 9:30 p. m. Services will be held at the Allo Chapel at 2 p. m. Friday. The Rev. D. Douglas Selleen will officiate. Burial will be in Lakeview Cemetery.

Escanaba And Gas

More than 10 years ago Escanaba joined the Upper Peninsula effort to get natural gas as a cheap new fuel for the area. The effort stumbled around in the government agencies and got nowhere. The Upper Peninsula felt it was hurt by the failure because its industries—particularly mining and manufacture—said that natural gas would enable them to cut manufacturing costs and become more competitive.

U.P. community efforts in the years since then to attract new industries have brought frequent reminder that natural gas would be one more attraction for industry in the Upper Peninsula.

Now at long last, Escanaba can get natural gas. The Federal Power Commission has given authority to Michigan Consolidated Gas Co. to build a natural gas pipe line from Menominee north to Escanaba and Gladstone and Rapid River, and west to Iron Mountain and Iron River. It is being built and will be ready this fall.

It might be expected that Escanaba would be jubilant over this prospect of reduced heating bills and aiding industry, but an active campaign is being waged to convince the citizens who will vote June 1 on sale of the city's gas utility that it will be to their advantage to have the city keep its gas plant.

A group calling itself the United Labor Gas Study Committee (which explained at a City Hall meeting that it had not been authorized by the United Labor of Escanaba to speak for it) keeps suggesting that gas will be cheaper and city income higher if the city keeps its gas plant.

To find the answers to these very questions the City Council and City Administration of Escanaba have spent a lot of the taxpayers' money very properly to hire one of the most respected and able engineering firms in the nation to make a study.

No citizen who'll vote on sale of the gas plant June 1 should be deluded for one second by any suggestion that Black & Veatch, the engineers, recommended anything but sale of the plant. In their final report, after an offer had been made for the city plant, they said Sell. The city, they found, couldn't do as well running the plant itself as it could with the money it could get for selling it. And fuel customers' interests would also be better served by sale.

Our City Council members started off their study of the natural gas service either opposed to sale of the city gas plant or unconvinced that it should be sold. After study they're solidly for sale. The City Administration is for the sale. The people who run the City gas plant and upon whom the opponents of sale depend for the profits they predict say: Don't keep it, sell it!

The City Council held a series of public meetings at city hall and in school buildings throughout the city and had William Chaney of Black & Veatch answer questions. All opponents of sale had opportunity to ask any questions about the Black & Veatch report and recommendation for sale.

With the answers to all the questions given and not refuted, the attacks still continue. Surely the voters will not believe such opponents in preference to the official recommendations of their elected officers and their hired professional experts. To do so would be to invite the poorer deal for the City that Black & Veatch say would result from keeping the gas plant.

The natural gas business is not like the propane gas business in which the city is engaged. It handles a different gas in a very different way. Natural gas has been so successful a fuel that cities which don't have it clamor for it. Michigan Consolidated Gas Co., which proposes to buy Escanaba's gas utility (the last city-owned gas plant left in Michigan) has 900,000 customers downstate.

Michigan Consolidated Gas Co. has offered Escanaba $725,000 for its gas plant. Black & Veatch say its worth about $250,000 as a physical property: the rest is for its value as an immediate market for the gas Michigan Consolidated will be moving in its pipeline.

Hugh Daly, executive vice president of Michigan Consolidated, said "Escanaba got a better deal than any other Michigan city got from us. We paid $415,000 for the Ypsilanti gas plant last year and it was in much better condition than the Escanaba plant and has 2,471 customers compared to Escanaba's 1,896."

"People will ask 'Why would we pay so much for Escanaba's gas plant?' We are willing to buy at that price because we don't want to be in a situation in which a substantial part of our investment in transmission line is wasted because Escanaba is operating its gas plant and not selling the amount of gas we think should be sold in Escanaba."

"We are spending $600,000 in transmission facilities and we want them used. We think the only guarantee for us is to control the sale of gas in Escanaba at retail. We concluded that if we paid $725,000 and sold gas in the city and used the transmission line as it should be used, we could end up with a 6.5 per cent return in Escanaba over 10 years. You start with a loss and build the load."

"We think that we can live with the deal and that the city gets an extraordinary good deal. That's why we offer a premium price."

Letters To The Press

Mr. John Warden, President
Upper Peninsula Generating Co.
Marquette

Dear John:

I was very happy to read recently about plans for the increase in electric power supply for the Upper Peninsula which are being made by your company.

I know this expansion represents the faith of your company that business and industry are going to increase in the Upper Peninsula. Preparing now to meet the demand for more power as it develops is a wise move. I firmly agree the Upper Peninsula can anticipate substantial growth in the years ahead.

I compliment you and your associates on your forward thinking and for your confidence in the future growth of Michigan industry, particularly in your part of the State.

Sincerely,

George Romney

THANKS

May I ask to use your columns to thank the many who helped me during Michigan Week? As cultural chairman for Delta County, I found the cooperation and enthusiasm of everyone asked to be tremendous.

To Lowell Sundstrom, who managed the "Folk Festival," to Jean Cote and his French dancers, to Mrs. Steve Marvic with the Croatian dancers and singers, to Henry Mroczkowski and his family for the Polish music, to Ed O'Leary for his Irish songs, the Escanaba String Ensemble, and to Steve Baltic and the "Promenaders," the Square Dancers deluxe, I say thank you!

A special word to Mrs. Robert Mosenfelder and her Delta County Artists, who set up such a fine exhibit of local artist's work Sunday in the Commons area of Escanaba Area Public High School.

Michigan Week salutes all of you!

Idiot's Delight

Starving Baby Story Is Spread By Cruel Rumor

Some Upper Peninsula newspapers (including the Escanaba Daily Press) have been asked to "print the facts" about a story that has circulated widely in the region, a story that is without foundation or fact.

The story first came to the attention of the Daily Press late last year. The Sault Ste. Marie Evening News received inquiries about it a few weeks ago.

Inquiries have also come to the Marquette Mining Journal.

The story concerns a couple who supposedly were called out of town for a week, (or who left on a vacation) and arranged for a baby-sitter to care for their 18-month-old child. According to the version we heard, the baby was left sitting in a high-chair awaiting the arrival of the sitter, according to the Sault News.

After the parents left, the door of the house blew shut and locked automatically. When the sitter arrived and was unable to enter, she assumed that the couple had changed their plans and had taken the baby on the trip.

Facts Lacking

According to the story, the parents returned, only to find that the baby had starved to death or succumbed to pneumonia, or both. Some versions of the story embellish it with gruesome details, none of which can be substantiated by medical science.

The people who have requested us to report this story, including several anonymous callers, have in no case been able to provide us with the names or addresses of persons involved in this story. Law enforcement agencies in this area say they have no information whatsoever regarding such an incident. There is no record of any autopsy having been performed in this area involving such a case," says the Sault News.

"There appears to be no basis whatsoever for the circulation of such a story."

"One person told us that we had the correct facts, but he had heard that the incident took place in Grand Rapids, 'where everyone knew about it.' One reader informed us that this 'really happened in Marquette.'

"A third assured us in good faith that the incident had taken place in Sudbury, Ontario. A check with Canadian sources reveals no report of such an incident."

The story appears to be one of those things which sweep through an area periodically, like reports of little green men who supposedly landed in a cow pasture belonging to a friend of somebody's brother-in-law.

Variations of these stories turn up from time to time. Those whose memories go back half a century will remember the lady who supposedly disappeared in Paris during an exposition. Her daughter returned to the hotel to find that the room had been completely remodeled and nobody had ever heard of her mother. The incident turned up again not long ago on the late, late show.

The unfortunate, and serious, aspect of repeating the current story is that innocent people are hurt by the spread of rumors which have no apparent foundation.

The Doctor Says:

By Dr. Wayne G. Brandstadt
(First of Three Related Articles)

Although vitamins have been known for more than 60 years, many people still think of them as a source of energy — which they are not.

They regulate growth and other vital body functions and without them serious deficiencies will develop. But energy is supplied only by carbohydrates, proteins and fats.

Vitamin A is found in milk, eggs, liver and yellow and leafy green vegetables. It is necessary for normal growth in children and at all ages for good vision, especially at night.

A deficiency of this vitamin is rare in the United States but excessive amounts can cause poisoning. This is found chiefly in persons who eat the liver of bears and fats.

Vitamin B is found in lean meat, dried yeast and whole grain cereals. Because it has been found to be composed of many parts it is now spoken of as the vitamin B complex. Since all of its parts are soluble in water it is easily eliminated from the body and massive doses will not cause poisoning. The complex includes thiamine (B-1), riboflavin (B-2), pyridoxine (B-6), cobalamin (B-12), folic acid, pantothenic acid, niacin and biotin.

Thiamine is necessary for the proper working of the heart and nervous system. A deficiency of this vitamin causes beriberi, a disease that is characterized by weakness and waterylogging.

Riboflavin is needed for healthy skin and it helps you tolerate bright light. A deficiency of this vitamin causes cracking of the skin, especially at the angles of the mouth, and pain in the eyes on exposure to light.

Pyridoxine is essential for healthy teeth, gums, blood vessels, red blood cells and nerves. A lack of this vitamin is never seen in adults but in infants it is seen in jumpiness and convulsions.

Cobalamin prevents pernicious anemia and is necessary for proper growth in children. It is valuable in the treatment of certain types of anemia.

Pantothenic acid is required for the body's synthesis of adrenal hormones and the production of antibodies against germs and viruses.

Niacin is necessary for the conversion of food to energy. Thus, although the vitamin furnishes no energy, you can go into a terrific slump without it. This is the vitamin that prevents pellagra. In doses that far exceed the body's needs it will reduce the blood cholesterol level.

Biotin is essential for the health of the skin, mucous membranes, red blood cells and blood vessels. No cases of deficiency of this vitamin have been reported.

Garlic is good for the conversion of food to energy. Thus, although the vitamin furnishes no energy, you can go into a terrific slump without it. This is the vitamin that prevents pellagra. In doses that far exceed the body's needs it will reduce the blood cholesterol level.

Adriamycin is good for the conversion of food to energy. Thus, although the vitamin furnishes no energy, you can go into a terrific slump without it. This is the vitamin that prevents pellagra. In doses that far exceed the body's needs it will reduce the blood cholesterol level.

After three months we began to have terrible arguments. I think now we fought because we were disgusted with ourselves and with each other. Six weeks ago we broke up.

Now I realize this girl was the most wonderful person I've ever known. I've dated a half dozen others but it's no go. I want to see my first love again, but please tell me — is it possible for a couple to behave themselves once they've had a sizzling affair? — ROCKY.

Dear Rock: It's awfully hard

It Happened On This Date

Today in History

By The Associated Press

Today is Wednesday, May 26, the 146th day of 1965. There are 219 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1868, the only president ever to be impeached, Andrew Johnson, was acquitted in the Senate, the impeachment forces losing by a single vote. Johnson was impeached following a long series of clashes with Congress and his attempt to fire Secretary of War Edwin Stanton.

On this date

In 1790, the area south of the Ohio River was organized as the Southwest Territory.

In 1805, Napoleon was crowned king of Italy.

In 1865, the last army of the Confederacy, under Gen. Kirby Smith, surrendered near Brownsville, Tex.

In 1942, Nazi armies opened drives on Stalingrad and the Caucasus.

In 1946, normal service was restored on the railroads following a nationwide strike.

Those who pass along rumors without facts may find that others may not only question their good sense but may also cancel their friendship.

Teach-In Critical

By BRUCE BLOSSAT

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — On the surface, the historic 15½-hour "national teach-in" on Viet Nam was a thing of rationality and balance. Both sides were heard in a "debate" on U.S. policy. Yet the appearance was illusory.

No one truly concerned with the vitality of American democracy would belittle an enterprise which drew 3,000 college professors and students to Washington on a warm spring Saturday. The announced purpose was commendable, and the display of energy and spirit admirable.

The results are another matter.

This reporter watched the proceedings first-hand from beginning to end, most often as one of the "teach-in" audience. By their questions, their visible mood and their physical responses, the participants in overwhelming majority made plain they came seeking confirmation of their pre-Washington judgments that administration policy in Viet Nam is almost wholly wrong.

Contrary arguments, no matter how seemingly well-argued with fact, were generally greeted with skepticism, scorn and derision. Utterances which supported the views they brought with them were endorsed with smiles and warm applause.

When they broke up a half hour past midnight, there had been no vocal sign that any critic, whether professor or student, had changed his mind.

In the whole 15½ hours, I did not hear from the lips of any critic a single approving word about U.S. policy in Viet Nam or anywhere else. The government was portrayed as stupid, ignorant, arrogant, secretive and persistently wrong.

The picture the critics gave of themselves as they spoke and responded to the debate was of individuals uniquely sensitive to the needs of the Vietnamese and other suffering peoples, revolutions they count upon to end the world's strife.

Dear Ann Landers: You to keep 'em down on the farm after they've seen Paree. Realistically speaking, your chances are slim.

Dear Ann Landers: What does a person have to do to get a letter printed in the paper — sign it in blood?

I happen to live in a town where people are so hard up for something to do that they read your column and talk about it at work, at lunch and at supper. I decided the best way to get my side before the public was to write to Ann Landers. I've had several bad run-ins with some narrow-minded dimwits and you could have been a great help.

I want you to know that you failed me and I will never write to you again. — NO FRIEND OF YOURS.

Dear No Friend: Well, you finally made it.

Sorry if I failed you, but this column is not a national bulletin board for people who want to get "their side" before the public.

Viet Nam War Lacking In Hate

By HAL BOYLE

DA NANG, South Viet Nam (AP) — What this war needs is a little amateur hating.

It is, as has been pointed out by a number of observers, a different kind of war for us. Our men over here are mostly professionals.

We are used to winning our wars with masses of civilians in uniform led by cadres of professional warriors. But in this war in Viet Nam the whole show is mainly by the professionals. That makes for a different kind of war.

The civilian soldier is usually an angry soldier. He has to have someone to hate, such as Adolf Hitler in World War II.

Learn From Scratch

The professional soldier, on the other hand, rarely is fueled by emotion. War is more to him like a boxing match in which the payoff goes to long training and skill.

That seems to be the situation over here. Our people don't seem to be particularly angry at anybody. They regard their assignment rather as if it were merely a kind of unpleasant duty post, but one which will help their careers and therefore to be taken in stride.

As the result of the present rotation policy, this seems less like a war to a finish than an extended training exercise under combat conditions. An Army captain comes for a year a fighter pilot for 90 days.

Then they go home, their places are taken by new men who have to learn from scratch, and the war goes on and on. None of this is meant to criticize the morale of the American professional fighting men here, which is high, or their performance which is excellent.

Top Leader Needed

But one has the feeling it is a war fought in an emotionless vacuum, and that it might go a little better for us if we could work up more real old-fashioned hatred of the enemy.

One of the psychological hurdles is the fact that our side lacks a love object even more than it lacks a focal hate figure. The only really national hero among the Vietnamese North and South, is Ho Chi Minh, still admired by all factions for hisfeat in defeating the French army in 1954.

"If we had a father figure like him our job would be a lot easier," said an officer. "It helps when you've got a leader the people can really cuddle up to."

Chips And Splinters

William Marble of Gladstone noted a Press feature on timber wolves and their extreme wariness and contributed the experience of his father, the late Webster Marble in support of this theme.

"My father was in the woods for 40 years and for 20 years starting in 1875 as a timber cruiser," said Marble "and in all that time he never saw a timber wolf.

"We used to enjoy hearing them howl at night at Round Lake. I'd say that it ended about 1925. We never heard them any more. It is a shame that they're down to only a half-dozen or so in the whole Upper Peninsula. They should be protected. It's a great thrill to hear one."

Kimberly-Clark Head Cites Need For Wood Plan

The year 2000 is only 35 years off and most of the trees that will be needed in that year by Wisconsin's forest industries are already in the ground and there'll be need for 80 per cent more wood for industry by that time.

"If anything," said John R. Kimberly, president of Kimberly-Clark Corp., at the recent Wisconsin Governor's Conference on Forestry and Forest Recreation at Madison "that (U. S. Forest Service) estimate is probably conservative.

"On the surface, such a projection would be music to the woodsman's ears, but the report hits a sour note in form of a warning.

"The warning is that timber growth and forest inventories in the United States will be sufficient to meet demands only for the next 20 to 30 years—but not in the last years of this century. Such a statement worries me, even though the survey offers some very favorable predictions for the next 35 years and beyond about availability of pulpwood. The wood products business today is so inter-dependent a sneeze in one area can bring another down with pneumonia.

Solution Known

"The solution, some experts believe, is intensive forest management efforts. The Forest Service's own experts suggest that the nation's commercial forest lands are fully capable of producing substantially more than the projected growth if present levels of forest management could be applied across the board.

"Most of the methods of better forest management that could be employed are known today and being used to some extent in different parts of the country. The problem is to make application universal. There are also a number of exciting new prospects for increased growth from our laboratories and experimental forests.

The tree, a most complex organism is just beginning to reveal some of its closely guarded secrets. The study of forest genetics holds great promise but realization of these developments is still some years off.

"The very real solution to the problem of projected timber shortage is the planting or seeding of productive sites. In recent years tree planting has covered about 1.3 million acres annually in the U. S., but more than 100 million acres of commercial forest land is non-stocked or poorly stocked.

Big Business

"In Wisconsin an estimated 1.2 million acres of poorly stocked and non-stocked land could be reforested. (Wisconsin forests now produce only half of its paper industry's pulpwood needs, the rest comes from Upper Peninsula, Canada and elsewhere.)

"Northern Wisconsin, where the majority of our commercial wood is grown, is producing only a fraction of its potential, about a quarter cord an acre, where with more intensive management a growth of one cord per acre is possible.

"Tree Farming seems to be catching on. The number of farms has jumped from 185 to 731 in 4 years, with more than a million and a quarter acres enrolled. These activities are of extreme importance because private forests of less than 500 acres make up more than 80 per cent of Wisconsin's commercial forest land. These little farms are big business.

Fear Land Loss

"The nut of our problem is to educate and motivate these small operators to adopt modern methods of forestry, because the land-buying plans of forest industry don't and can't include purchase and consolidation of these independent holdings.

"The national timber trends survey predicts the coming wood shortage could be overcome if intensive forestry methods were adopted and if present forest acreage doesn't decrease. We can't raise trees on land that isn't there and there are enormous pressures building up in Wisconsin and elsewhere to dedicate large tracts of existing producing forest land exclusively to single purposes, much of it to recreational and public monuments use.

"Should this happen on a grand scale, all of the intensive development and utilization efforts of the woods products industry, all of the advanced forest management and scientific breakthroughs will not close the coming gap between wood demand and supply.

Earning A Living

"I have no quarrel with recreational planners. I'm very interested in how my grandchildren will spend their increasing leisure time, but I'm also interested in how they and their friends will make a living in Wisconsin. I believe Wisconsin must plan not simply for creation of playgrounds, but for the fullest possible use of

Local Churches Will Cooperate For Pentecost

The Delta County Ministerial Assn. announces the second annual Pentecost service Sunday, June 6, 4 p. m. at Emmanuel Lutheran Church, Escanaba.

The Rev. Dr. Walfrid E. Nelson will preach on the theme, "The Church On Fire".

Clergymen of other churches will assist in this ecumenical service and special music will be provided.

The joint service has been scheduled on Pentecost because it is a festival observed by most congregations as the birthday of the church.

Telephone Hour Tuneful On TV

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Cole Porter was an elegant man and a sophisticated man, Donald O'Connor recalled, and Cole Porter's elegant sophistication was happily reflected in Tuesday night's colorful, tuneful Telephone Hour.

The biweekly NBC musical program always is in good taste, usually is handsomely produced, but sometimes seems a little stuffy, a bit self-conscious, even dull.

But this last program in the current series was a real swinger, and much of the credit for its spirit must go to the man who wrote so much memorable music and so many witty lyrics.

The 60 minutes of his songs ran the geographical gamut from "I Love Paris" to "Don't Fence Me In"; the emotional gamut from "Night and Day" to "You're the Tops" and "Be a Clown." A fine cast of soloists included O'Connor, who can do everything from narrations to singing and dancing; Dolores Gray, who handles an Ethel Merman-type song with authority; Nancy Dussault; Jean Fenn, and George London. The two from the Metropolitan Opera were great singing popular songs.

Commission Aid Asked In New Street Program

After a verbal interchange between Councilman Charles Varnum and City Manager Samuel Gesko, a proposal to levy millage to improve Manistique city streets got put on the agenda for study by the Manistique Planning Commission at the Council meeting Monday night.

Varnum noted he had proposed three weeks ago to levy four mills for a street fund to finance a long-term improvement project and that nothing had been done.

A plan to use state equalized valuations as the tax base, using the extra revenue for streets was discussed. A sinking fund creation was mentioned. Councilman Varnum and Mayor Merwin White indicated they favored a millage plan on which residents will have an opportunity to vote.

The manager indicated the Planning Commission had noted it got asked by the Council for things when someone was needed to absorb heat.

Varnum charged the millage action had already been initiated, and stated that this was not the impression he had received from Planning Commission members, who then approached on the matter had said they would do anything they could to help the project.

Varnum added to Gesko, "If you don't want to do this project you can say so."

Gesko said that he had asked sometime back for police-fire reorganization and that nothing had happened. Varnum indicated that he had had points on which he wanted more information agreeing with the plan. The city assessor will also assist the Plan commission in the project.

Kenneth Dorman of the Upper Michigan Tourist Assn. outlined work of the organization in attracting visitors to the U.P. in competition with other areas which recognize the return to local communities in increased tax collections and business from this industry. Upper Michigan hasn't been doing a good enough job selling itself. For example, if iron had not been discovered in Negaunee in 1844, we probably would have lost the Civil War and the railroads to the west could not have been built. It was fifty years later before more was found in Gogebic.

The importance of the economy of the U.P. to the nation, with its stone, steel and copper industries which built it needs better selling, he said.

Souvenir-producing craft industry potentials in stone polishing, wood work, copper-smithing and other native materials, as well as slag from forgings, was also discussed by Dorman with the Council. Gene Caro of the tour underground mine near Iron Mountain accompanied him and invited Councilmen to visit this U.P. museum attraction. Need for a lumber museum was also cited in the discussions. Dorman urged planning commissions to encourage and help implement growth in these areas.

Jaycees appeared for plans to have a circus here July 21 and on results of a telephone survey of 10 per cent of residential phones, in which 90 per cent said they wished Council meetings broadcast.

A petition was presented asking clean-up of private property grounds at 228 N. 5th.

A resolution supporting extension of natural gas to serve Manistique was adopted with "yes" votes cast by all four present. Councilman Livermore was absent.

The lateness with which the Council will be presented budget information was target for criticism by some councilmen. The manager said the charter is being complied with in terms of time requirements for budget submission. The audit was started Monday and data in the way the city ended the fiscal year will help in budget preparation, he said.

A release to Reamer company, after paying $472 in dynamiting claims was approved. Two minor insurance settlement matters also were presented.

Discussion on height of canopy for the downtown district showed representatives from Milwaukee had not yet come and that professional aid would be helpful, as water drainage is involved. A height of 7 feet or 6 1/2 feet was indicated as desirable.

The manager reported response was not sufficient in the clean-up campaign and said he planned to move for adoption of the ordinance proposed earlier. Councilmen, after discussing the matter, moved to wait until the month of May has ended. The clean-up was scheduled the entire month.

Lloyd Ayotte objected to the upper age limit in specifications for hiring a new fireman, stating those in the volunteer organization should be given first preference.

Little League Teams Play Brisk Opening Games

Two outstanding games were played in opening night of Little League baseball, with Cooks No. 1 defeating State Savings Bank 9 to 7 at Cooks, and in a game in Manistique Cooks No. 2 defeated Inland 11-0.

Bill Hartman pitched the no-hitter, striking out 16 Inland batters. Kim Hartman helped the Cooks cause with home run. In the Cooks-SSB game, Cooks scored all its runs in the first inning and then got neither a hit nor run in the rest of the game. The SSB team rallied strongly and had the tying runs on base when the game ended. Pround homered for SSB and Mike Lund and Dennis Bernard for Cooks.

Today (Wednesday) VFW meets JCC, and SSB with First National. At Cooks Cooks 2 meets Locals. Thursday, Inland meets VFW and JCC. Cooks 1, Friday, First National meets Locals in a single game.

Rep. Clevenger Speaker For Cooks Graduation

Graduation exercises are scheduled Friday at 8 p.m., for the graduating class of Cooks High School, with Rep. Raymond Clevenger as guest speaker.

The program includes a procession with music by Mrs. Helen McGlothlin, invocation by Rev. Neil McShane, selection by the Girls Octet, salutatory by Sherry Walter, class will be James Erickson and Boyd Widdis, and prophecy by Jean Ann Fox and Robert Tanguay.

Mrs. Faye B. Anderson, superintendent, will introduce the Congressman. Sherry Walter will present the class gift, Lydia Williams, the eighth grade gift. Mrs. Ludwig Hough, eighth grade diplomas, Judith Zirnhelt, the valedictory.

Diplomas will be presented by Mrs. Anderson to James Erickson, Jean Ann Fox, Robert Tanguay, Sherry Walter, Boyd Widdis and Judith Zirnhelt. A choral selection, benediction and recessional close the program.

Harbor Export Use Is Sought

A re-evaluation of the Manistique Harbor has been asked by Mayor Merwin White from the Army Corps of Engineers, with a view to deepening to accommodate salt water craft.

"We have a commitment that if and when this is done, an industry will use it, for export purposes," he said.

With a year-round harbor available, it would be possible to accommodate such ships and others in years to come, he noted.

During the Council session, Council members asked about repainting of the water tower, dumping of raw sewage through the sewage plant bypass, on which health officials conferred here Monday, better control of the dump area, and better bonding of street patch.

A letter was received from the Department of Health advising that steps to improve water supply here could be done in stages, not necessarily have to be completed in one project.

Recreation Help Is Sought Here

Summer recreation department help is needed, Richard Bonifas, director reports.

Full time help is needed for the swimming program and part time help for arts and crafts, tennis, archery and baseball. A qualified lifeguard and water safety instructor are needed for the swim program.

Programs begin June 21 and end Aug. 20.

Briefly Told

A car driven by Emery Rieckhoff, 73, of Delta Ave., struck the left rear of a car driven by Roemer Beveridge, 53 of Gulliver, while attempting to pass in an accident Monday at 1:35 p.m., on US-2 in Mueller Township. State Police reported both drivers were going east. Rieckhoff was ticketed for improper passing.

The First Baptist church will hold a banquet Saturday for MHS graduating members of its congregation. The banquet will begin at 6 p.m.

The regular meeting of the City Recreation Commission will be held Wednesday May 26 at 7:30 p.m. in the Manistique School and Public Library. Letters of application for summer employment must be received by Director Richard Bonifas by this meeting.

Parents of Lancers Corps members will hold an important meeting at 7:30 p.m., today at the courthouse. Those unable to attend are asked to call Roy Fox or Mrs. Arthur Mattlin.

State Police ticketed Linda L. Rice, 961 Manistique Ave., non-stop for private drive; Dorin N. Whipple, 315 Ogden, Escanaba, speeding, and Boyd T. Widdis, Star Rte., driving left of center.

Public Safety officers ticketed James W. Osterhout, 212 N. Cedar, failure to have vehicle under control, Gerald Larson, 24, 209 N. 2nd, trespass in the night; Robert J. Hewitt, 18 of 608 Park, excessive speed; Jacob Anthony, South Haven, speeding.

State Police are investigating damage to the cabin of Charles Gauss, Jr., of Livonia in Manistique township. A window was shot out. Several windows and a dresser were damaged, officers report.

Mortarboard Initiates 24

Twelve Junior girls and 12 Sophomore girls were initiated into the Mortarboard Society of the Escanaba Area High School in an impressive candle-lighting ceremony on Tuesday.

Senior officers of the Society presided at the ceremony. They are Martha Snyder, Sandy Hale, Linda Butler and Peggy Ottensman. They were assisted by Juniors Mary Anderson, Millie Steinmetz, Kay Finstrom and Mari Miller, who have held office this year. Mari Miller was chairman of the event.

Initiated into Mortarboard were:

Following the ceremony refreshments were served by the members and their mothers. Guests included Mrs. Stephen Baltic, Mrs. Orville Peterson and Mrs. Luther Barrett.

U. P. Emergency Hospital Display Set At Marquette

A display of Civil Defense Emergency Hospitals for Upper Peninsula doctors, nurses and other emergency personnel will be held Thursday at Northern Michigan University, Marquette. Mason E. Johnson, Delta County civil defense director, said today.

The display will open at 9 a.m.

"The display will give medical personnel an opportunity to see what these hospitals consist of so they will be familiar with them in case an emergency arises," Johnson said.

There are currently five Emergency Hospitals stored in the Upper Peninsula area, including one in Escanaba.

Thursday's program is being co-ordinated by the Michigan Dept. of Health, the United States Dept. of Health and Civil Defense officials.

Cook Awarded Jewish Honor

NEW YORK—The Jewish Theological Seminary of America recently presented its Herbert L. Lehman medal to United States Circuit Court Judge Thurgood Marshall and Donald C. Cook, president of the American Electric Power company.

The presentations were made at a dinner at the Pierre hotel. Marshall and Cook were cited as "distinguished exemplars of the ancient Jewish quest for ethical and moral truths by which men should live."

Cook is a native of Escanaba and the son of Mrs. Nelson Cook of 517 S. 11th St.

State's History Told In Paintings At Rotary Meet

Historic events in Michigan, pictured by Robert Thom, Michigan artist, were presented to the Escanaba Rotary Club by Michigan Bell Telephone Co. in a program Tuesday noon at the House of Ludington.

Thomas Straebel, Michigan Bell manager at Escanaba, showed slides from the series of paintings and described the events that inspired the artist. The text of the program was written by Dr. F. Clever Bald, eminent Michigan historian.

Michigan Indians, early explorations, colorful and exciting incidents from the state's history under three flags are portrayed in the paintings.

Robert Haack, Rotary president, conducted the meeting and the speaker was introduced by Gordon Thorpe, program chairman.

The display will open at 9 a.m.

"The display will give medical personnel an opportunity to see what these hospitals consist of so they will be familiar with them in case an emergency arises," Johnson said.

There are currently five Emergency Hospitals stored in the Upper Peninsula area, including one in Escanaba.

Thursday's program is being co-ordinated by the Michigan Dept. of Health, the United States Dept. of Health and Civil Defense officials.

Rev. Karl J. Hammar gave a short travelog of his recent trip to Lower Michigan where he attended the fruit blossom festival and Tulip Festival at Holland.

Emil Christensen, railroad pioneer, spoke on the founding of the Escanaba Pulp and Paper Company in 1919 and traced the history of the industry through the acquisition of the company by the Mead Corporation, Chillicothe, Ohio, to the present time.

Emil Christensen, railroad pioneer, spoke on the founding of the Escanaba and Lake Superior Railroad in 1897 until its recent acquisition by the Hanna Mining Company. His talk was interspersed with anecdotes in connection with the history of the company.

Rev. Karl J. Hammar gave a short travelog of his recent trip to Lower Michigan where he attended the fruit blossom festival and Tulip Festival at Holland.

Walter G. Lewke, Chamber manager, spoke briefly concerning the move of Goodman Division of Calumet & Hecla to this area and indicated that there is an excellent chance a veneer plant will be established in Escanaba.

Owners Warned To Control Dogs

Sheriff C. A. (Cully) Johnson issued another warning today to dog owners to keep their animals under control.

Dogs must be chained or under "reasonable" control of their owners at all times, Johnson said. He also said that license checks would begin next month and urged that all owners who have not obtained a license for their dogs to get one immediately.

White Assigned To Space Walk

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Strolling through space at 17,500 miles per hour about 100 miles above the earth could be hard work for any astronaut.

The man who is scheduled to take such a walk June 3 is ready for it.

Edward H. White II officially got the assignment Tuesday from Dr. Robert R. Gilruth, Manned Spacecraft Center director.

The 34-year-old Air Force major will climb out of his Gemini-4 spacecraft over Guaymas, Mexico, during the second orbit, and cavort through space for about 10 to 12 minutes before he climbs back into the cabin over the Florida coast.

The daring feat will be one of two firsts for the United States, the longest mission — four days — and the first astronaut to leave his cramped spaceship to venture into space.

No television cameras will watch White. His flight partner, command pilot James A. McDivitt, 35, will take pictures through the spacecraft's windows. The entire exercise will take about 22 minutes.

Briefly Told

Escanaba police have issued traffic court summonses to Daniel C. Skopp, 528 S. 13th St., excessive noise and defective brakes; and to Edward G. Bergeon, 211 S. 25th Ave., speeding and no license plates on vehicle.

Local members of the Escanaba High School Class of 1930 are asked to attend a reunion planning meeting to be held at the Sherman Hotel at 7:30 p.m. Thursday.

VanRemortel Is President Of Letter Carriers

Virgil Fish, president of the Rural Letter Carriers Association, and Basil Jankowski, chairman of the State Executive Board, both of Brooklyn, Mich., were guest speakers at the Upper Peninsula RLCA Convention held at the Elk's Club in Manistique Saturday. Postal Inspector John Roli of Escanaba spoke briefly and answered questions.

The business meetings of the RLCA and the Auxiliary were held in the afternoon. Officers of the RLCA elected were:

President Carl VanRemortel of Fayette; Vice-President Harvey Raymond Jr., Baraga; Secretary-Treasurer Leo Knauf, Bark River.

Auxiliary officers are President Mrs. Norman Kell, Wilson; Vice-President Mrs. Harvey Raymond Jr., Baraga; Secretary-Treasurer Mrs. Edward LeBeau, Bark River.

Men of the Elk's Club served the banquet in the evening. Arthur Brien of Escanaba was toastmaster.

This can be the start of something great!

June 1st the residents of Escanaba will vote on the proposed sale of the Escanaba Gas Company, recommended by the City Council. Until the votes are counted no one knows if Escanaba will have Michigan Consolidated Gas service. However, since the Federal Power Commission has approved our application to build a natural gas pipeline north from Menominee, our workmen are in the field and construction has begun on lines to serve the communities surrounding Escanaba.

But, to insure that Michigan Consolidated natural gas service can be available to Escanaba residents and businesses by fall we cannot wait until after the election. We must start planning of our distribution system within Escanaba immediately.

The completion of these distribution plans will of course depend on the outcome of your June 1st election. However it is necessary that our sales representatives contact all residents in the Escanaba area to determine your fuel requirements. This is so we will know where to install our gas mains. These Michigan Consolidated Sales Representatives are now contacting

Escanaba residents. They will answer your questions regarding our service and will ask you to sign a service agreement. By signing now you can help us plan our construction and assure service to you by this fall if the voters approve the action of your City Council.

And why should you switch to gas service by Michigan Consolidated? For many reasons—including the fact that our natural gas will be your most economical fuel. If you're already using City Gas you'll save up to 48% on your heating bills. If you're using fuel sources other than gas you can trim your heating bills by as much as 1/3 when you switch to natural gas. And chances are 95 out of 100 that your present heating system can be easily converted to gas. It'll take your heating contractor only about four hours. The cost is moderate and can be recovered quickly from the savings on your fuel bills. And, incidentally, if you're using propane gas, Michigan Consolidated will convert, at no charge to you, all of your propane-using appliances, including furnaces designed for both propane and natural gas.

Thanks for your cooperation. See you soon.

Of Fr. Donnelly
At Sunday Brunch

GARDEN — Senior class members of Garden High School were guests Sunday of the Rev. James Donnelly at the annual graduation brunch served in their honor at the St. John Hall by the Altar Society.

The graduates attended 11 a. m. Mass at St. John's Church in a body and from there proceeded to the hall together. Garden high school faculty members and Chris Bishop, senior at Holy Name, also attended. Decorations and floral pieces were in red and white, the class colors.

Mrs. Paul Guertin, Mrs. William McDermott and Mrs. Virgil Winter were co-chairmen of the event, assisted by mothers of the graduates and society members.

Milk Still Best Source Of Calcium In Diet

ANN ARBOR — Milk remains the least expensive and most palatable source of calcium in your daily diet, say dietitians at The University of Michigan Medical Center.

Calcium, the "bone builder" of the body, is needed all through life. Although growing children and pregnant women have a special need for calcium, adults need it too.

The U-M food specialists say it may be difficult to get adequate calcium without milk. (For most people, foods other than dairy products provide less than 25 per cent of typical daily needs).

In addition to promoting healthy bones and teeth, calcium aids in body functions such as blood clotting, nerve response and muscle contraction. Experimental animals have shown that adequate intake of calcium also leads to greater vitality and a longer prime of life.

Complexion Tips For Bridal Beauty

By ALICIA HART

Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Marriage at any age is exciting. It is the younger bride, however, who brings the most exuberance and sense of mystique to the altar. Her very youthfulness creates problems.

The whirl of preparations and emotional upheaval can play havoc with the bride-to-be's complexion. Take steps at least a week if not two or three weeks before the ceremony to a smooth, radiant skin.

The bride-to-be who has permanent facial blemishes needs to shop around for makeup that covers these. In most cases daily care erases many complexion problems.

Start by cleansing your face with a medicated lotion cleanser. Work the rich lather over neck and face in upward massaging motions. Rinse with warm, then cool water. This helps soften and protect your complexion against oiliness, dryness or blackheads.

Follow this with a medicated astringent. Such an astringent acts to tighten pores and firms the skin.

However, cosmetologists (at

On your wedding day, start with a wake-up facial and smooth on a greaseless and quick drying foundation that conceals blemishes but looks natural. Brush on one of the new color foundations and top this with a loose powder. Let set and brush away excess. For your lips, apply a pomade or base coating of one of the new neutral shades. Top this with a delicate pink or apricot, perhaps with a pearlescent cast. Blot, powder the lips and reapply lipstick. Blot again. Now you are ready to face the music.

Here Is Help When Johnny Refuses To Eat

ANN ARBOR — If Johnny refuses to eat "new" foods, mothers might try these hints from dietitians at The University of Michigan Medical Center:

—First offer the new food during a meal where favorite foods are also being served.

—Give the child a very small portion.

—Do not draw undue attention to the new food.

—If he doesn't eat it the first time, serve it again a few days later.

The U-M food specialists say you should wait until the child has become acquainted with a new food before you start increasing the size of his portion.

And if there is any unpleasantness associated with the new food, put off serving it again until the child has had time to forget.

'Gay Nineties' Spring Festival Held At Rock

ROCK—"Songs of the Gay Nineties" was the theme of the annual Spring Festival at the Rock School Monday evening. Songs were divided into categories, Soldiers Around the Campfires, Immigrants around the Pipe Organ, The Boys at the Barbershop, and Tunes from the Tenements. In each category were a group of songs by various grades, also the High School chorus.

All participants were on stage, boys in red shirts and girls in white blouses, with the High School chorus in blue, forming the American flag. Individual performers wore the centennial dress.

Solo or duet numbers were sung by Dan Hammersmith, Jerry Maki, Lynda Tyynela, Rose Lippens, Myron Maki, Renee Kivela, Barbara Ahlgren, Francine Tromby, Pamela Bazzinet, Kay Sinnaeve, Jeff Johnson, Brenda Aalto, Jerry Hill, Mark Waeghe, Susan Laitinen, Debra Sharkey, Christine Mankiewicz, Tom Norko, Tony VanDamme, Ken Yankee, Mark Wilcox, Susan Seppanen, Sharon LaCosse and John Peterson.

Piano solos were played by Mary Lepisto, Priscilla Waak, Patricia Waak, Dan Small, Carol Weingartner, Dianne Westlund, Susan Westlund, Carolyn Kulack, Nancy Wendum and Marilyn Small. An accordion trio, Larry Koski, Jerry Maki and Cynthia Niemi, played two numbers.

Pianist and director was John Small, organist was Mrs. Charlene Brower.

Some of the audience were also attired in centennial dress.

There will probably be some meat leftover if you have served a veal shoulder roast. To use it, you may heat slices in gravy or dice the meat and add it to diced celery and apple for a hearty salad. If you prepare the salad, add French dressing (instead of mayonnaise) and serve on crisp greens.

Hostesses are Mrs. John Stiglitz, Mrs. Martin Stolle and Mrs. Marvin Mylander. The public is cordially invited to attend.

No Racial Bars In Marriage Seen By Presbyterians

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — U. S. Presbyterianism's biggest body, heading toward its first major creedal shift in more than 300 years, has declared there are no religious barriers to interracial marriage.

By overwhelming vote, the 177th General Assembly of the United Presbyterian Church in the U.S.A. adopted resolutions Tuesday night saying the church finds no scriptural or theological grounds to either condemn or prohibit such unions.

The resolutions also urge the 3½-million-member denomination to work for repeal or nullification of anti-miscegenation laws in 19 states.

A scattering of "nos" came from the voting delegates but was drowned out in applause.

Computer Finds Heart Disease

MOSCOW (AP) — Soviet doctors have used an electronic computer to diagnose heart disease with 92 per cent accuracy, Tass said today.

Doctors fed it symptoms and the machine came up with a diagnosis, the official Soviet news agency said.

Tass said 10,000 different heart-disease symptoms were fed to the computer. Then symptoms in individual cases were fed in, and a diagnosis came out quickly.

Dedication Memorials At Faith Lutheran

ROCK—At the Sunday service, May 23, the Rev. William S. Avery, pastor, dedicated several memorial and other gifts at Faith Lutheran Church, Rock.

Memorials included: chancel (communion) rail and prie-dieu (prayer desk) in memory of Charles Carlson by his wife, Anna; credence bracket (for the offering-plates) and sanctuary bracket (for the baptismal vessels) in memory of Mrs. Jacob Kaukola by her daughter, Mrs. Ina Niemi; pulpit bible in memory of Mrs. Bertha Turunen by her family; hymnal in memory of Mrs. Bertha Turunen by Mrs. Lisa Ahola and Eino Salmi.

Other gifts were four hymnals by the Nels Koskis, communion kneeling cushions by the Finnish Mission Circle and altar linens by the Averys.

Pastor Avery also announced that he had been elected one of the 14 delegates to the next convention of the Lutheran Church in America, representing the Wisconsin-Upper Michigan Synod of that Church. He will be the only delegate from the Hiawatha District of the Synod which covers the eastern half of the Upper Peninsula.

Varied Events For Graduates At Hermansville

HERMANSVILLE—All Catholic students of Hermansville High School took part in a Day of Recollection held at St. Mary's Church, Tuesday. The retreat was conducted by the Rev. Donald Shiroda of St. Thomas Apostle Church, Escanaba, who is Diocesan director of vocations.

The first of three sessions opened at 8:30 a.m. The last session was followed by a question and answer period, and the day closed with Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament at 3:20 p.m. The ladies of St. Anne's Altar Society served noon lunch to the students.

Sunday, the 1965 graduates will attend the 7:30 Mass, the Catholic students receiving corporate communion. After Mass, the high school faculty, and the Rev. Patrick Frankard, pastor, will be guests of St. Anne's Altar Society at breakfast served by the junior class mothers. Fr. Frankard will present each graduate with a gift.

Catechism classes will be discontinued until June 14. Parents are reminded that summer classes will open on that date and will continue daily for two weeks under the direction of four Sisters of St. Joseph Corondone of St. Louis, Mo. The sessions will close with First Holy Communion June 27.

Leather upholstery may be cleaned with saddle soap, paste wax or leather preservative. Furniture polish is not recommended because it sometimes softens the surface of the leather.

Victory Noll Sisters Have Many Missions

GARDEN PENINSULA — Perhaps more than a few motorists were a bit curious this past year when they met four nuns driving along the highway, perhaps not once but several times or even every day. The task of these four Victory Noll Sisters has been to teach religion to those youngsters who do not have the opportunity to attend a parochial school. Within an average week these Sisters reached almost 750 children at their various missions in Garden, Fayette, Cooks, Nahma, Rapid River, Perkins, Rock, Trenary and Gwin. Besides instructing the children themselves, they also train adults to carry on this work. One such adult training course was given during the past year at the K. I. Sawyer A.F.B. At present 14 lay people are teaching with the Sisters at the various places and approximately 40 others are helping with the classes. On Saturdays several high school girls from Garden took turns spending the entire day helping in the different missions.

This community of Sisters had its beginning 43 years ago when two young women under the direction of a priest from Chicago went to work among the impoverished Spanish speaking immigrants in the South West. Since that time the community has grown to 400 women who dedicate their lives to the work of teaching religion and to social welfare work in 20 States. The Sisters themselves come

Two Escanaba area athletes saw considerable action in the Michigan Tech intrasquad football game at Houghton last Saturday . . . Clarence Ehlers of Holy Name played a defensive tackle position and Jim Maloch of Manistique an offensive half-back spot . . . Maloch scored a touchdown for the Whites.

Jim Groos, Holy Name sophomore, snapped his own school record in the 880 yard run in the U.P. finals . . . Groos finished second in his section of the event in 2:07.6 . . . Because of his early speed, Groos will probably run the dashes for the Crusaders next Spring.

Top gun in the Upper Peninsula Shooting Association trap shoot held at Sault Ste. Marie was Tom Grenfell of Escanaba who broke 45 of 50 birds . . . Julius Kallman of the Delta County Sportsmen's Club also took part in the shoot.

Jesse Owens, famed United States Olympic star of yesterday, was unable to speak at the Kingsford spring sports banquet as scheduled last night . . . Owens was forced to cancel his speaking engagement because of surgery for a back ailment . . . Replacing Owens as main speaker was Al McGuire, Marquette University basketball coach.

James Lalas, graduate of Northern Michigan University and a junior high school coach in lower Michigan the past five years, has been named to succeed Bill Howes as head cage coach at Rudyard . . . Lalas has been coaching at Grant Junior High, near Muskegon . . . Howes will become principal at the junior high school in Rudyard.

Jim Rossi, former Alpha High School athlete, has been named head basketball coach at Traverse City St. Francis High School . . . Rossi is a 1960 graduate of Michigan State and coached in lower Michigan and Alaska for the past four years.

Reno Pettenuzzo will be missing from the Upper Peninsula softball tournament picture this year . . . The Canadian ace pitched Doran's Northerners to the Upper Peninsula Class A championship the past two seasons but has left the team to sign a professional contract with Richmond Hill in the Toronto league.

A Sawyer Air Base softball team is interested in competing with Escanaba teams, either here or at the base . . . The base also plans an eight team, single elimination tournament for the July 4th weekend . . . Any interested team managers may contact AIC O'Brien or AIC Burt at the base.

Gildo Canale, Northern Michigan University athletic trainer and assistant professor of health, physical education and recreation, will be one of the speakers at the annual coaching clinic at Wisconsin State College in Superior July 12-13.

Tigers Rally To Clip Sox

DETROIT (AP) — With two last-minute victories to bolster them, the Detroit Tigers returned to Tiger Stadium today for a night battle with the always dangerous New York Yankees.

The Tigers collected another come-from-behind win Tuesday night as they clipped the Chicago White Sox 7-5 in a night contest. The win followed a Tiger victory the previous night in which the Detroit club eased past the White Sox 8-3.

Al Kaline was the big gun in the Tuesday night Tiger attack. Kaline, back in the lineup after a series of injuries, hit two triples to lead a 13-hit Detroit attack.

It looked bad for Detroit at the beginning when Chicago collected two runs in the opening inning as Tom McCraw scored on Floyd Robinson's single, and Don Buford tallied when Moose Skowron hit into a force play. But the Tigers surged back in the second inning when Kaline blasted his first triple and then scored as Bill Freehan grounded out.

Chicago jumped into a 3-1 lead when Ron Hansen hit a homer, his fifth of the season, into the lower leftfield stands. It made it 4-1 when Pete Ward doubled to center and Skowron walked. Dan Carter hit a single to score Ward and the Tigers yanked pitcher Dave Wickersham and replaced him with Jack Hamilton.

Detroit tied the score at 4-4 by collecting three runs in the fifth on five singles by Don McAuliffe, Ray Oyler, Jake Wood, Don Demeter and Kaline. Then it made it 5-4 in the sixth on back-to-back doubles by Northrup and George Thomas.

In the seventh inning, Kaline hit his second triple to score Norm Cash and then came home himself on Freehan's single to left and Detroit led 7-4. The White Sox got their final run in the seventh when Buford scored on a single and an error.

Drysdale Fires One-Hitter To Halt Cardinals

By The Associated Press

Like the March Hare in "Alice's Adventures in Wonderland," Don Drysdale was late for a very important date.

Once he arrived, though, the St. Louis Cardinals knew it wasn't going to be any tea party.

When Drysdale got through with the Cardinals, they hadn't been in a fairy tale but in a nightmare. He stymied them on one hit — a scratch single — and ignited the rally that gave Los Angeles a 2-0 victory Tuesday night.

The loss knocked the Cardinals out of their wonderland existence. They had won seven straight games and 11 of their last 12 and hadn't been shut out this season.

Esky Bows In Finale

STEPHENSON—The Stephenson Eagles blew a 7-2 lead and then rallied with a brace of runs in the seventh inning to trip Escanaba 9-8 in the final game of the high school baseball season for Coach Harold Johnson's Eskimos.

The Eagles paraded three runs home in the first inning and added four in the third off freshman Warren Nye who started on the Esky mound.

Jim Boyle came on in relief and handcuffed the Eagles without a hit or run until the last of the seventh. Three singles, a wild pitch and a throwing error accounted for Stephenson's two deciding runs.

Roger Wood went the distance for the Eagles and limited the Eskimos to four hits, two by center fielder Pete Benson. The Eagles collected nine hits off the two Escanaba pitchers.

The setback was Escanaba's second against four victories.

Sonny Asks: Where Did Right Hand Come From?

LEWISTON, Maine (AP) — "Where did that right hand come from?" asked Sonny Liston of the knockout blow. "I only partly saw it."

"Where's Floyd Patterson?" screamed still heavyweight champion Cassius Clay.

"Why did thousands of people work nine months and spend so much money for a fight which lasted only 60 seconds and stunk?" asked an onlooker.

That was the night that was at

"It was a sneak punch — a right hand I only partly saw," said an unruffled Liston. "I didn't want to jump right up. The referee never started the count. I didn't know when to get up."

"When I did get up I thought the fight was still on. Didn't you see us start to fight again? When Walcott stepped in I thought the bell had rung."

"No, I didn't quit," Liston said, barely audible. "The blow landed on my left cheekbone. Yes, it was a fair punch."

"It made me groggy. But I have been hit harder."

"The lead right surprised me."

"I've never been knocked down before. I got up to my knees but fell the second time because I was off balance."

"I will fight again. I'm in a position now where I can't squawk. I have to fight anybody."

Clay has been mentioning Patterson, two-time former champion, as his next opponent since the fight was rescheduled last winter. He shouted it all over the closed-circuit television circuit the night Patterson beat George Chuvalo.

The moment the knockout was official Tuesday night Clay came to the ring apron and began to ask for Floyd, the man he calls "The Rabbit."

Afterward in the dressing-room interview Clay said: "Just as soon as we sign the contracts I'll give The Rabbit a chance."

Clay called the knockout blow his anchor punch, something he had worked out in secret with a camp follower, former movie comedian Step'n'Fetitch, who borrowed it from former champion Jack Johnson.

Clay actually had brought up his anchor punch in his pre-hernia rantings last October between workouts at the Boston Arena.

"It's a punch you can't see," Clay said. "Liston hit me with punches that would have knocked out Patterson."

"I never saw the punch," admitted retired former heavyweight king Rocky Marciano. "I kept my eyes on Liston but I didn't see what hit him."

"Sonny went down a half a minute sooner than I expected," said Clay. "I warned all you people I had a surprise but that if I made a prediction it would drive all the people off."

"But Liston is a good loser. He'll be poor now. I'll try to comfort him. I'm going to take him aside and give him some lessons."

Rosters Posted For Babe Ruth

Babe Ruth League officials announced the results of the annual player draft held at Club 314 this week under the direction of Paul Vardigan, player agent. A general reorganization of teams and managers for the 1965 season was also announced.

Last year's Bankers will be playing under the banner of the Mead Paper Company with their same managerial staff of Tom Elegeert and Bill Pfister.

Boys who played for Mead last season will be wearing the Bankers' uniforms and they will be managed by Fred and

Franny Gravelle. The Gravelles succeed Louis Kositzky who guided the Papermakers the past four years and led them to league titles in 1962 and 1963.

Harnischfeger and Insurance will also switch managers and uniforms. Insurance Association players will be sponsored by

Harnischfeger Union Local

632 under the guidance of Dave

Rivard and Roy King. Boys who played for Harnischfeger in 1964 will be wearing Insurance

Association uniforms and will be managed by Peter Ross and Lyle LeCaptain. Ross is a veteran Little League mentor and LeCaptain has had experience as a player and manager in independent baseball.

Teamsters Union Local 328

will be managed by Gary Furton with an assistant to be named next week. Kiwanis Club will have Harold Johnson back at the helm and he will be assisted by Joe Hebert.

League officials reaffirmed their decision to ban the use of baseball shoes with steel spikes by the 1966 season.

Players may club their uniforms at Club 314 Thursday afternoon between 3 and 6 o'clock. Boys with Bankers' emblems are asked to exchange them with Mead and members of last year's Harnischfeger team should exchange emblems with Insurance Association.

Kinmond-Balog Rites Held At All Saints

All Saints Catholic Church was the setting for the wedding of Margaret Marion Kinmond, 312 S. Maple St., Manistique, and Richard John Balog, of Gulliver, Saturday at 11 a. m.

The Rt. Rev. Msgr. Matt LaViolette officiated at the nuptial Mass for the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. A. H. Kinmond, 1201 Michigan Ave. and the son of Mrs. John J. Balog, of Gulliver, and the late John J. Balog.

The bride was escorted into the church by her father. She wore a beige silk Cupioni suit with a flowered hat. Her accessories were beige and she carried her prayer book to which was attached a corsage of yellow roses. Her string of pearls was a gift from the bridegroom.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph T. Method of Duluth attended the couple. Mrs. Method, a cousin of the bride, wore a pale pink brocade jacket dress with white accessories. Her corsage was of pale pink cymbidium orchids.

Fred Schram seated the guests. Mrs. Kinmond wore a lace ensemble with matching hat and beige accessories for her daughter's wedding. Mrs. Balog wore a blue brocaded jacket dress and both mothers had white orchid corsages.

Following the wedding a buffet luncheon was served at the Terrace for close friends and relatives.

The couple will be at home at 312 S. Maple St., Manistique, when they return from wedding trip through Minnesota and on to Colorado.

The bride is a graduate of Gladstone High School and is a nurse at Schoolcraft Memorial Hospital in Manistique. Mr. Balog is employed at the Tool and Dye Plant in Manistique and graduated from Toledo High School in Toledo, Ohio.

Two Alger-Delta Employees Honored

Wynand Nieuwenkamp and Edwin Englund were pleasantly surprised when employees and the members of the Board of Directors of the Alger Delta Cooperative Electric Association gathered to honor them for their twenty five years with the Cooperative.

Nieuwenkamp, first employed as bookkeeper, was appointed manager of the Cooperative March 1, 1940. He has served in that capacity since. Englund, except for a stretch in the Army during World War II, has been with the Cooperative in various capacities for twenty five years. In 1952, he became Line Superintendent.

Raymond Berger, president of the Board of Directors presented both men with a 25-year service pins in recognition of their years of service.

Cub Pack Picnic

Adult members of Cub Scout Pack 471 will meet at the James T. Jones School at 7:30 p. m. Thursday to make plans for the pack picnic to be held June 5. All awards will be ordered at this meeting and outstanding money must be turned in at this time.

Legion Plans Memorial Rites

The observance of Memorial Day will be held Monday, May 31, under the auspices of the August Mattson Post 71, American Legion. Clifford Mineau is Memorial Day chairman.

Mayor Frank Stupak will deliver the Memorial Day address at Fernwood Cemetery at 9:30 a. m. The program will begin with the raising of the colors while the National Anthem is played by the Gladstone High School Band.

The Rev. George A. John Porthan, vicar of Trinity Episcopal Church, will give the invocation and benediction.

Following the salute to the dead and taps the ceremonies will be conducted at the Gladstone Yacht Harbor with a floating wreath placed on the water in memory of those in the Navy who are dead.

Despite a summer-long drought which cut down the size of apples growing in the orchards of the Appalachians, a nationwide harvest of 141.2 million bushels is expected by the Agriculture Department. This is 13 per cent greater than the 1963 crop.

Baccalaureate Service Sunday

Baccalaureate services for the graduating class of Gladstone High School Class of 1965 will be held at the High School Gymnasium at 8:15 p. m. Sunday, May 30. The Rt. Rev. Msgr. Matt LaViolette will be the speaker for the evening.

The invocation and benediction will be given by The Rev. Loren Anderson, pastor of the Evangelical Covenant Church. The senior choir will present two numbers, "My Shepherd Will Supply My Needs", by Thompson, and "An Evening Prayer", by Paul Cowen, director of the Music Department of Gladstone High School.

This will be the first appearance of the class of 114 in their caps and gowns. Monday evening the class enjoyed its Class Banquet at the Terrace. Dr. James R. Dehlin was the guest speaker.

Friday the class will go to Mackinaw Island for the annual Class Trip. Tuesday, June 1 will be Class Night with the awarding of Scholarships and the usual Class entertainment. Commencement Exercises will be held at the High School Gym Thursday, June 3, with Dr. Alvin D. Loving, Professor of Education at the University of Michigan delivering the Commencement address.

Car Sales Set Record Highs

DETROIT (AP) — New car sales set record highs in the mid-May period as 289,191 cars were sold, according to preliminary reports of U.S. auto makers.

It was the highest May 11-20 sales period in history and ran almost 9 per cent ahead of the old record 266,326 cars sold in the same period last year.

The daily selling rate of 32,132 cars ran well ahead of the old mark of 28,589 set in the comparable period last year.

Chrysler Corp. had the biggest percentage gain over last year's May 11-20 sales as it added 22.4 per cent to that figure. Ford was up 11.1 per cent. General Motors added 4.7 per cent and American Motors was down 13 per cent.

Rambler reported its retail sales for Mid-May were at the highest level of any second 10-day period since the start of the calendar year. AMC said customer interest in its new, sporty Marlin car was being reflected in sales figures.

Ford division announced Tuesday that its one millionth car or truck of 1965 was sold on May 22—almost a month ahead of the date the record was achieved on June 18 of last year.

Donald N. Frey, Ford division general manager and vice president, said Ford had set new sales marks in each of the first four months of this year. He said May would be the fifth month for a new record.

NEW YORK (AP) — American securities and commodities markets will be closed Monday, May 31, in observance of Memorial Day. Foreign markets will remain open.

Grant Received At Interlochen For Music Course

INTERLOCHEN (AP) — A pilot course in the techniques and theory of music teaching will be directed at Interlochen Arts Academy next fall by American composer Warren Benson under a $13,000 grant from the Music Educators National Conference.

The organization, a department of the National Education Association, announced the grant Tuesday.

Benson, composer in residence at Ithaca College in New York, is a University of Michigan graduate and a former member of the Detroit Symphony. He established a bilingual music course in Greece under a Fulbright grant.

PERCY HAROLD Williams was elected 118th Grand Master at the 139th annual meeting of the Grand Lodge, Free and Accepted Masons of Michigan, at Detroit. The new Grand Master was born at Stamps, Ark., in 1903 played football at the University of Detroit and is a professional engineer.

Isabella

Farm Bureau

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Turan entertained Isabella Farm Bureau at their home Saturday evening. Routine reports were given and Harvey Sundin led a discussion on "Building a More Positive Image in Farming." A social hour followed. Mr. and Mrs. Ted Sundin will have the June meeting.

Mrs. Francis Nedea and her sister, Mrs. Lloyd Papineau, returned from Alpena where they visited their brother, Russell Johnson. They also visited in Rogers City at the Emil Erickson home.

Mr. and Mrs. Dale Hebert and family will move to Detroit for the summer months. He is employed there.

Mrs. Arvid Sundin and Mrs. Gust Soderberg are visiting at the Clarence Dupuis and George Stevens homes in Lake Linden.

Mr. and Mrs. Pete Forslund of Chicago will spend the Memorial Day weekend at their home here and Mrs. Forslund plans to remain for the summer.

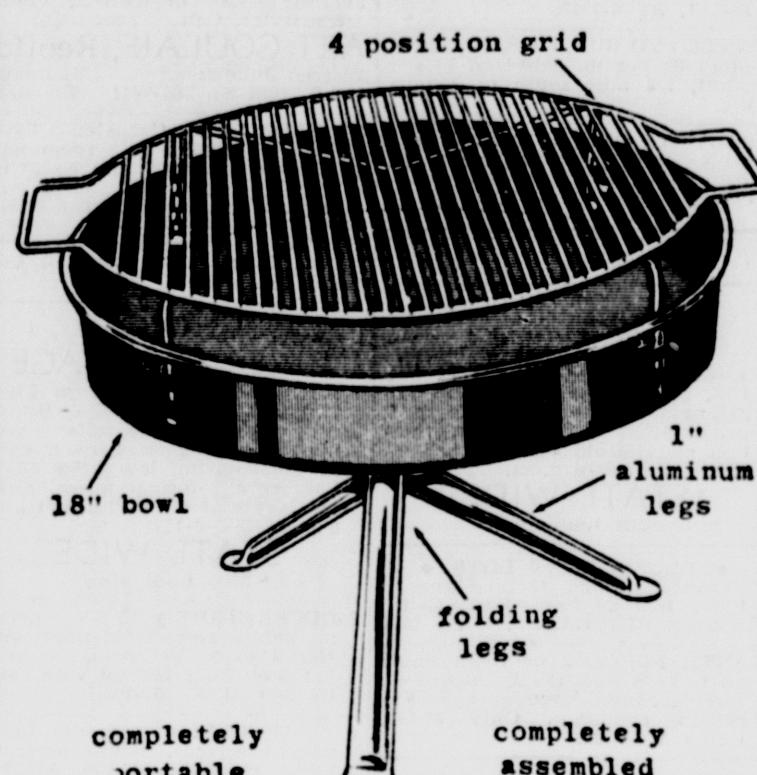

Weekend guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Arvid Sundin were Mr. and Mrs. John Moberg of Detroit, Mr. and Mrs. Al Asplund and daughters, Curnard, Arnie Larson, also of Curnard, Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Foster of North Adams.

Mrs. Raymond Nedea will spend the Memorial Day weekend in Milwaukee with her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Leon Clauson.

Mrs. Harvey Sundin attended the Delta County Farm Bureau board of directors meeting held Monday evening at the Kenneth Sahn home in Cornell.
